I don't think that it is inappropriate to respond that we are reviewing the situation but that we don't comment on potential or ongoing investigations.

FYI -

Dave Hensley, AWMD has the violation history - which was provided to David Bryan on Friday.

Attached are the FACT SHEETs provided by ATSDR CDC and shared with KDHE and local Emergency Manager. There was one designated spokesperson for risk - onsite in Atchison. The City Manager would know / have the individual spokespersons name for risk communication.

Scott Hayes, AWMD is evaluating potential EPA violations.

Thanks

Ken

Dave is out, so not able to get a hold of him, but I did forward to see if he gets a chance to take a look.

Have you talked to Dave Bryan? He was in the spill room and may be able to answer these with a consistent message.

Here are the reporter's question. We no longer need to do a phone interview, written responses are fine:

1. Is EPA investigating this incident?
2. How harmful to public health was this release?
3. What past violations (in detail and with dates; air quality only) has EPA found at this plant?
4. How serious is this violation, insofar as this involved a widespread public health hazard and was not something of a regulatory nature? In other words, would this be characterized as "run of the mill" or something more serious?

Ben,

What is the reporter going to be asking about?

Ben,

The two OSCs that worked the spill are both out of the office. Most of the OSC group is out this week either at trainings, meetings, or site work. Is this something we can provide information to you or another OPA contact about to conduct the interview?

Here's a request for interview regarding the Atchison release.

He is requesting a phone interview, so if we do this we will need to identify an appropriate spokesperson. We should try to respond today, given they are planning for this evening and tomorrow.

Ray,

My colleague Ben Washburn is handling questions related to the Atchison release. By copy of this message, I'm forwarding your inquiry to him, and he will follow up with you directly.

Hi Chris:

Can you tell if there is anyone staff there who can speak to media about the Friday incident in Atchison at MGP? If so, I will have some questions to pose to them for my article that we're planning for Wednesday's issue...as well as this evening's coverage on our FOX station, KNPB.

I'd also like to request permission, if allowable, to record a phone interview with EPA for our TV station.

I should be here most of the day, except for a lunch hour that I'm planning for 1 to 2 p.m.

Thanks for anything you can provide to assist with my coverage.

Sincerely,

Ray Scherer
